Rhys Warner - Smokin' The Narrows (Instrumental)

Following on from his beautiful country ballad 'Our Everlasting Love', Rhys Warner now shows his versatility and struts his stuff with this smokin' new track 'Smokin' The Narrows'. Rhys puts his Gretsch guitar through its paces with his high-spirited catchy tune. This beautifully crafted original gem is guaranteed to get your toes tapping and is perfectly suited for radio.

"I composed 'Smokin' The Narrows' and then thought .. "What am I going to call this?" It reminded me of the backing music for a tv sitcom such as 'The Dukes of Hazzard' with the car chase scenes. It made me think of when I was in my teens. All of my friends and I used to gather every weekend at a spot called "The Narrows" just outside my hometown of Murchison NZ. It was a stretch of smooth black seal, a road that no one drove down, because of a new road that led to Nelson. We used to smoke up the tyres on our cars, yep typical teenage stuff, no one ever got hurt."
