Rae Leigh - Blue Shoes

Following up from her success with her number 1 single “Push Em Up Jill”; ‘Blue Shoes’ dives into generational storytelling, passing on the gifts of knowledge we have as women, to make us stronger and nurture the girls we are blessed to raise up.

“A story that has been shared for years and even at my wedding was my mum always wondering why there was lipstick all over her mirror in the bedroom, turns out younger me had been putting makeup on the girl in the mirror and couldn’t understand why she kept moving!” - Rae Leigh

Rae Leigh was inspired for the idea of this song after attending the 2021 Australian Songwriters Conference north of Sydney. After sitting down to do a co-write with someone, who didn’t show for the session, she ended up writing it on her own. The song was then optioned spontaneously for ‘Young Rock’ the TV show, in which Rae was acting on set as an 80’s Nashville Honky Tonk singer. It was recorded and filmed, however in the end they went with ‘Honky Tonk Man’ sung by Rae Leigh, but we have the recording now for this experience, produced by the amazing team at Kross Kutt Records.
