Daniel Allars – Desire

Desire was one of the first songs that started my latest explosion of songs.

Written in the first house we owned, Desire is about finding that person who has more than just a physical attraction but something deeper that will keep you in the relationship.

The video is a tongue in cheek example as, what as we get older we truly value.

Recorded at home, Desire is the first song I have dared release that I played all the instruments and produced.

About Daniel Allars

Daniel Allars is a singer song writer who has performed in folk and country music festivals across NSW to the glitz and glamour of Sydney lights The Basement.

Daniel is no stranger to hard work and country roads. He has recently returned to song writing after a long break of spending time with his family.

He has been honing in on his creativity and song writing to independently write, record, and release original music from his house in the Hunter NSW Region.
