Cathy Dobson – A Little Faith

“A little Faith” is a feel good song, a song about positivity, finding the light in a dark day.

Lots of little miracles happen around us that we do not always notice-good news you were not expecting, finding something you thought you had lost forever, or even just waking up to beautiful clear blue skies.

The song tells a story of an orphan child and a lonely widow finding each other, saving each other.

“A little Faith” is the first single from my forthcoming album “Living in Mediocreville”.

The album was recorded with Damian Cafarella and Lachlan Bryan (The Wildes and The Pleasures) at Damian’s “End of Road” (EOR) studios in Edithvale, Vic. Damian and Lachlan have played all the instruments and did the backing vocals.

Art work by Tracey Roberts.
